

John Saintignon DVDs, Videos & Books

- Teach your players to read and react to the defense to work into different offensive actions
- Create easy shots with new screening and cutting techniques
- Read defenses easily and create open looks for baskets

with John Saintignon,
"Grant Union High School" di Sacramento (California) Varsity Head Coach

Coach Saintignon leads you through fundamentals for running the secondary break for your team. As the primary break gets the basketball up the floor, the secondary break reads the defense. Therefore there is no need to call out any plays, just your players reacting to the defense. Saintignon takes you through many different options out of the secondary break, starting with the wing entry option. This option looks for cutters and eventually works its way into a 3-out 2-in triangle offense. Saintignon presents more options to look for if the wing entry option is not available including the Trail Post, Screen and Roll, Dribble Clear, 2-man game and Simple Attack. Saintignon runs you through his playbook with diagrams, explaining where each person needs to be at each time. With this secondary break attack, your team will be able to read defenses easily and create open looks for baskets.

61 minutes. (2009).
